

Faculty of Humanities, Charles University in Prague

Interests and motivations explaining philanthropic support for social science: the Fisher-Bulmer debate

(workshop)

Tuesday / úterý 11.11. 2014 13:00

Meeting room / zasedací místnost 124a, Institute of Philosophy, Czech Academy of Sciences / Filosofický ústav AV ČR, Jilská 1, Praha 1

Program:

Martin Bulmer (University of Surrey, United Kingdom)

Interests and motivations explaining philanthropic support for social science in the interwar period

Jan Balon

(Institute of Philosophy, Academy of Sciences; Institute of Sociology, FSV UK)

The Great Transformation of Social Science in the Face of the Great Depression: The Social Science Research Council and the Public Ir/Relevance of Sociology in the Time of Crisis?

Marek Skovajsa (Department of Civil Society Studies, FHS UK)

Can the "cultural hegemony" thesis be applied to the Rockefeller Foundation's support for Czechoslovak social sciences?

Tereza Pospíšilová (Department of Civil Society Studies, FHS UK)

George Soros and the CEU Sociology Department in Prague: disinterestedness, class interest and influence in times of post-communist transformation

Discussion will follow after each presentation.

Workshop je součástí řešení projektu 13-15802S podpořeného Grantovou agenturou ČR a programu PRVOUK 19 "Interdisciplinární sociální vědy" na FHS UK.