

An aerial photograph of Prague, Czech Republic, showing the Vltava River, the Charles Bridge, and the Old Town. The image is framed by a white, hand-drawn border. The sky is overcast, and the water is dark. The buildings are mostly red-tiled, and there are several churches and towers visible. The text 'PRAGUE' is overlaid in the center in a large, white, sans-serif font.

PRAGUE

The Ultimate Survival Guide

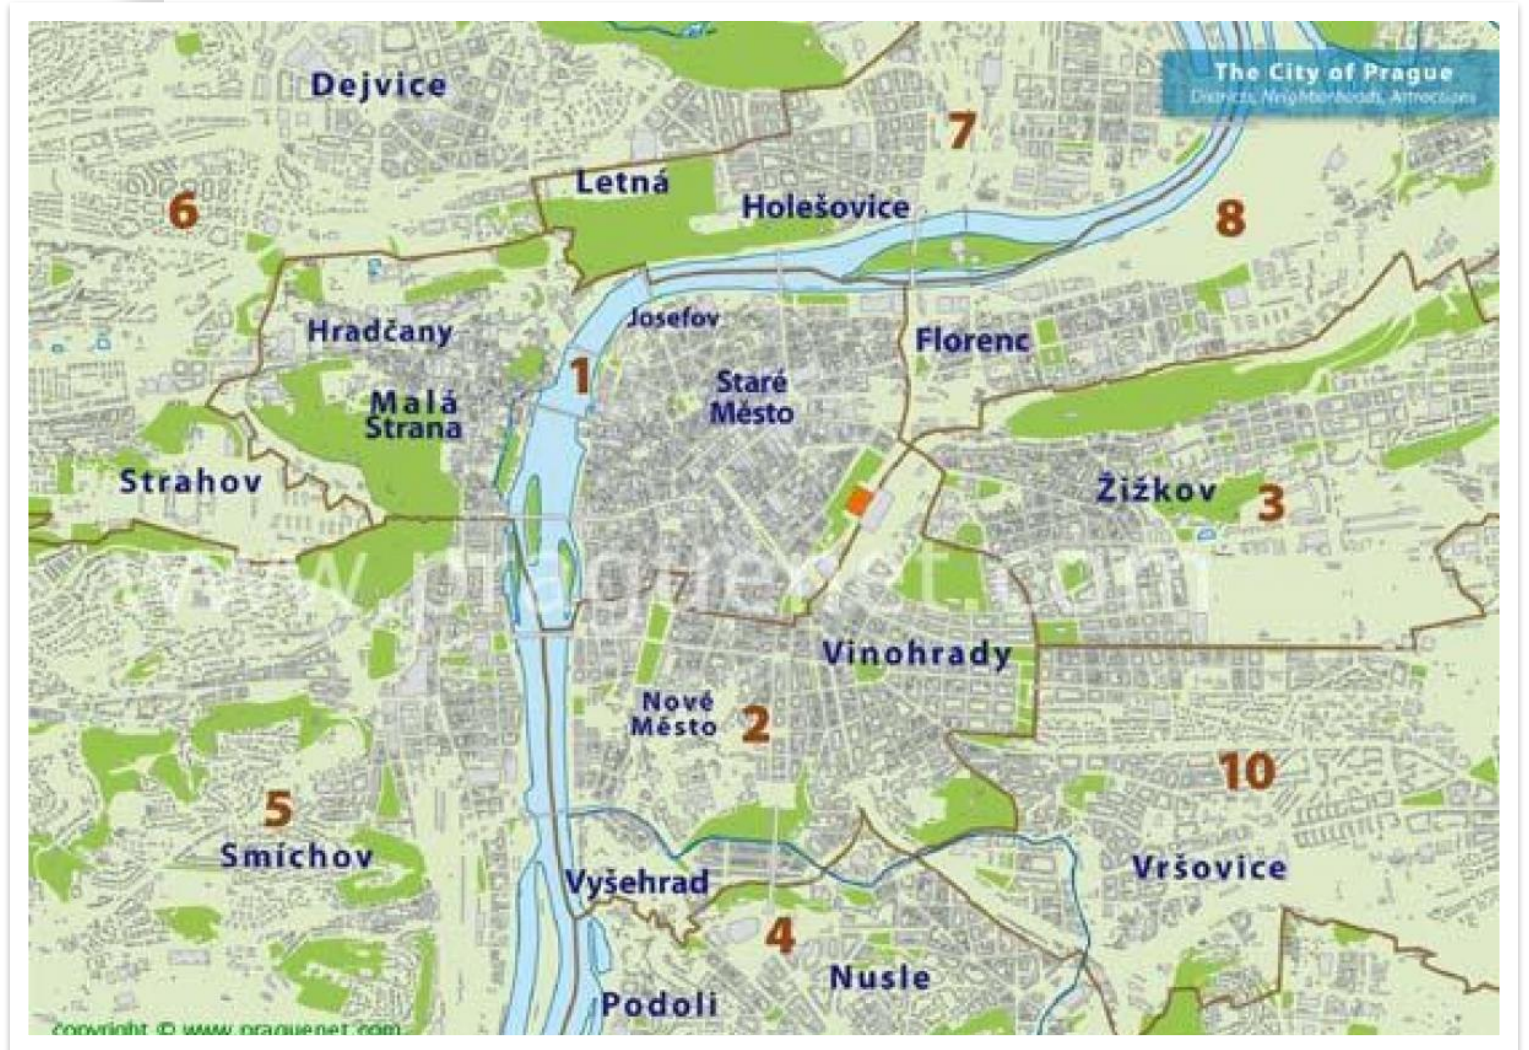

PRAGUE 101

- Capital City of Czech Republic
- „Praha“ in Czech, also known as „City of a Hundred Spires“ or „Mother of all Cities“
- Located on the bank of Vltava river
- Approximately 1.3 million inhabitants, 6–8 million visitors per year
- The historic centre of Prague (which includes the Old Town, the Jewish Quarter, and the Lesser Town) is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site since 1992

THE LAYOUT

- 22 districts, spiral
- Prague 1- city centre
- Prague 2- fancy residential area
- Prague 8- Troja, our current location

"I see a vast city, whose glory will touch the stars!"

BIT OF HISTORY

- Legend about Prague's founding – princess Libuše's prophecy
- became the seat of the Přemyslid dynasty in the 9th century
- cultural and trade centre during the middle ages
- Importance grew in the 14th century during the reign of Karel IV. – Charles Bridge, St. Vitus Cathedral, and, of course, Charles University
- Unique blend of Gothic, Renaissance and Baroque style

BIT OF HISTORY II.

- More modern influences include art nouveau (Municipal House) and cubism (House of the Black Madonna)
- Prague Spring-> August 1968
- 1989- Wenceslas Square- student protests

MYTHS AND LEGENDS

- Golem- Jewish folklore- Rabbi Löw
- Master Hanuš- builder of the astronomical clock
- Several Prague ghosts: Headless Templar, Murdered Nun

- Metro- 3 lines- A, B, C, 3 transfer stations (Můstek, Florenc, Muzeum), all in the centre
- Trams- go mostly through the city centre
- Buses- going to the outskirts, can get stuck in traffic during rush hour
- City centre is pretty walkable if you can avoid tourists
- Cycling is not recommended (too hilly and too many cars)

- Your travel card also allows you to use riverboats on Vltava River
- Find more info on <https://pid.cz/en/riverboats/>
- There is also a funicular that gets you on top of Petřín Hill
<https://pid.cz/en/?s=funicular> (under reconstruction)
- Night buses (the 900s) and trams are also pretty reliable
- Uber or Bolt is always an option

Use IDOS App or <https://idos.idnes.cz/pid/spojeni/> for finding out the fastest route from station A to station B
