
Mgr. Hana Knollová

Research areas

contemporary history from the perspective of sociocultural and historical anthropology, research into border areas, memory and memory studies, the formation of the relationship between humans and the landscape, depopulation and transcultural transfers, materiality and new material studies, actor strategies and relational networks in the more-than-human world, cultural heritage

Identificators:

ORCID: 0009-0000-0235-0803

Conferences and professional presentations

August 2025 – Participation in the conference Cultural Heritage and Depopulation in Europe, Prague

Courses

Education

2024 – present, PhD student in General Anthropology, Faculty of Humanities, Charles University, Prague

2022–2024, MA, Anthropological Studies (specialization in historical anthropology), Faculty of Humanities, Charles University, Prague

2019–2022, B.A., Humanities Studies, Faculty of Humanities, Charles University, Prague

Qualification Thesis

Diploma thesis: Černovodské halali - Lov jako volnočasová aktivita v Československu v letech 1960-1989 na příkladu fungování bývalé lovecké usedlosti v Černé Vodě (Supervisor: doc. PhDr. Lucie Storchová, Ph.D., DSc.)

Bachelor's thesis: Člověk v krajině, krajina v nás: utváření vztahů člověka a krajiny v oblasti údolí Divoké Orlice (Supervisor: Mgr. et Mgr. Markéta Zandlová, Ph.D.)